

Miner Coloring Page

Mining has a long history in Arizona and has included both professional and non-professional miners. There are still many active mines around the state.